

WHITE MACAUBAS

COLOUR

White

MACROSCOPIC DESCRIPTION

White Macaubas quartzite is a very fascinating natural stone, with a cream coloured background and light black, grey and brown veins in an irregular pattern. It is very recognizable and rare, capable of providing a very distinctive style across various applications. Elegant and refined, the White Macaubas quartzite comes from quarries in Brazil and is an ideal stone for those who wish for an exotic but understated touch to their project. The possible applications are varied; the White Macaubas is a very versatile stone: bathrooms and kitchen tops, floors and walls, objects and various decorations across interiors and exteriors.
