

DAINO REALE

COLOUR

Beige

MACROSCOPIC DESCRIPTION

Daino Reale marble is a natural stone extracted from Sardinian quarries that is characterized by a warm and elegant cream color and more or less marked veining that may vary by the block of provenience, the quarry of extraction and the type of natural stone. In fact, Daino marble is available in various types: Cloudy Daino Reale presents splendid clouds of lighter color, while Vein Daino, as the name suggests, is characterized by diagonal or cross-section veining, both marble types loved and appreciated for its versatility and elegance.

Daino Reale marble is, thanks to its technical characteristics, excellent for exterior applications and interior ones, a marble capable of expressing both classic and contemporary Mediterranean styles.
