COLOUR

Grey

MACROSCOPIC DESCRIPTION

A synonym of force, ease of processing and beauty, Pietra Serena is a grey sandstone typically used in Tuscan architecture and construction, but also used in art and particularly sculpture, in which the finest grain is best. It's grey background, that may vary in shading based on the block, is embellished by bright dots of mica, particularity that makes this natural stone very recognizable.

Possible applications using Pietra Serena may be interior and exterior staircases, floorings, columns and decorative objects, kitchen countertops and bathroom elements, facings of many kinds and daily use objects as vases and elegant trays. The beauty of Pietra Serena can be brought out also by different finishings as polishing, sand-blasting, honing and brushing.
