

CARRARA WHITE

Category: white

Colour: White

Petrographic name (according EN 12407): Marble

Macroscopic description: White Carrara marble is the epitome of marble, the stone that allows to put the accent on its intrinsic luxury and exclusivity and to transfer it in every application, which only a natural material can achieve. Perfect for interiors and exteriors, White Carrara marble is distinguished by other similar marbles because, in addition to having a beautiful white background crossed by slender gray veins, it is a very versatile material. In fact, its very fine grain and high degree of hardness make it aesthetically beautiful, easy to combine with other materials and very resistant, fundamental characteristics for any application whether classical, traditional, modern or contemporary.

The hardness and the fine grain are the elements able to determine an excellent resistance and a high level of gloss, perfect to give brightness to rooms and create valuable floors, stairs for interiors or exteriors, tops and window sills, decorative objects and for everyday use, both fascinating and functional.
