Macroscopic description: Statuario marble is an extremely precious natural stone, extracted in the Carrara area, a very refined material that has a bright white background crossed by medium-wide gray veins, capable of characterizing each design project thanks to its unique aesthetic properties.

Very recognizable and elegant, Statuario Bianco is the most sought-after natural stone in recent years, the favorite stone of architects and designers for the use of luxurious projects in the most beautiful houses in the world. Suitable for both traditional and classic designs, Statuario white marble is also perfect for embellishing modern and contemporary designs, thanks to its versatility. In fact it may be very well used together with other materials, wood and stones. White Statuario is the stone used above all in interior design projects, the physical characteristics of this marble make it suitable for use in environments protected from humidity and environmental factors.
