Macroscopic description: Giallo Siena marble is a natural stone typical of the Sienese mountains, for sure one of the most famous and beautiful Italian colored marble, appreciated since ancient times for different types of applications, facings and for the realization of decorative objects and jewels.

The particularity of Giallo Siena marble is given by its nuances that can go from yellow ochre to a more intense yellow and sometimes also to a reddish yellow. The background is characterized by thin veins and fractures and is crossed by white or ivory strong veining and light grayish veins, particularities that offer this material an original and unique look. Giallo Siena marble is perfect for interior applications, facings, decorative or everyday objects with a timeless touch. The finishes that best express the beauty of Yellow Siena marble are the polishing that gives brightness to locations because it reflects the light and allows you to better observe the background texture and the peculiarities of the veins but also the sandblasting that makes the background opaque, perfect for modern realizations, with a contemporary and linear character.
