

PINK TRAVERTINE

COLOUR

Pink

MACROSCOPIC DESCRIPTION

Pink Travertine is an Italian natural stone characterized by a rather uniform and compact background of pinkish color, enriched by intense veining and shades more or less marked, particularities that give personality and character to applications.

Pink Travertine is ideal for both interior and exterior designs, constructions and applications as: furniture elements, facings for fireplaces, bathrooms and kitchen tops, decorative elements as vases and trays, floorings and staircases also in combination with other marble types and many more. The image of the natural stone here is purely indicative, the color of Pink Travertine may vary based on the block and quarry of provenience.
