MACROSCOPIC DESCRIPTION

Windhurst marble is a limestone with a beautiful light grey background and tenuous shades of grey and beige, colors that may change based on the quarry and block of provenience. Elegant and modern, Windhurst marble is a bright and essential limestone, excellent for interior design with a contemporary still elegant print to it.

Windhurst marble can also be used for exterior projects if properly treated and protected. The material is suitable for different applications like precious floorings and marble facings, imposing staircases and decorative elements for interiors, kitchen and bathrooms tops, modern shower trays, contemporary decorative objects.

The finishes that most express Windhurst marble's beauty are polishing, honing, brushing and waterjet.
