

AZUL MANAGUA

Category: marble

Macroscopic description: Azul Managua marble is an elegant and refined material extracted from Brazilian quarries. The unique and original feature of Azul Managua marble lies in its background, characterized by a base color that ranges from deep blue to pearl gray, enriched with delicate veins that create a visually dynamic texture. This marble is appreciated for its unique appearance and its ability to transform any space with a sophisticated and modern touch.

Ideal for use in wall cladding, flooring, kitchen countertops, and bathrooms, Azul Managua marble stands out for its resistance and durability. Its combination of cool tones makes it particularly suitable for contemporary interior design projects, where a material that offers elegance without excess is desired.

Azul Managua is the perfect choice for those seeking a marble that combines beauty and practicality, with an appearance that evokes the shades of the sky and sea, adding depth and character to any space.
