

CALACATTA VIOLA

Colour: White

Macroscopic

description: Calacatta Viola is a precious marble extracted in the Apuan Alps basin, a marble known and used since ancient times and much appreciated for its particular beauty. Characterised by a white background that is crossed by purple veins, Calacatta Viola marble is a truly unique natural stone, and one that is very recognisable. Especially recommended for internal applications - historically used to adorn churches and noble houses - today Calacatta Viola marble is often used to give a special touch to projects.
